

PACKING LIST

Bible

Notebook & Pen

Sunscreen

Layers of clothes (Washington weather can vary from hour to hour, so layering is best - you might need everything from shorts and a t-shirt to long pants and a sweatshirt or jacket on a single day!)

Rain jacket

Refillable water bottle

Backpack

Sleeping bag

Air Mattress

Pillow

Toiletries (body wipes will come in handy as we won't have access to showers!)

Beach/Shower Towel

Athletic shoes (running shoes or sneakers are great)

Bathing suit (Modest one pieces or tankinis are acceptable. Chaperones have the final say and you may be asked to wear a tshirt over your suit)

Camera

Hat

Sunglasses

Masks for the week (if needed, will update this with latest regulations!)

Optional: Extra $$ for snacks/ice cream if we go into town

NOTE:

We are going UNPLUGGED--which means, no cell phones used during camp please! Exception is for taking photos (you can turn it on airplane mode for that). Should an emergency arise or you really need to get a hold of a camper you can reach us at one of the following numbers. The campers can also call home from one of the same numbers. It's less than four full days Campers, you WILL survive and your interaction with fellow campers will vastly improve! Chantel Kreiger: 425-736-4643 Andrew Perkins: 425-802-1569
